AMUSEMENTS

ELKS THEATER

The Tivoli company presented a double bill at the Elks theater last night. The change from drama to comedy met with instantaneous success. The comedies, "The Man from Texas" and "My Wife's Husband" are as sparkling and effervescent as champagne and fully as palatable. They abound in funny situations and splendid musical numbers. The principals and chorus were up in their parts and gave a splendid performance. Mr. Kelly is a comedian par excellence, and as the husband in the second bill was very funny. Without horse play he got the laughs.

Miss Masses in both bills gave a clever portrayal of character work. She is natural and pleasing. Mr. Harkness and Mr. Vician in their respective characters pleased the large and appreciative audience. Mr. Cooke as a German comedian is in a class by himself. Misses Shattuck and Cooke in their solo work were well received. The chorus were encores in every number. As singers and dancers they are unequalled by any yet heard or seen in Phoenix. The show as a whole was excellent. The reduction in prices helped materially to swell the attendance.

THE COLISEUM.

Manager Reeves is offering an extra feast of fun this week. Three big vaudeville specialties and an entire change of photo plays tonight.

Barber & Palmer, high-class comedy entertainers; Juggling Miller, in a novelty juggling act, and Gage & Hart, novelty singers and talkers, complete a bill of high-class entertainers.

Guests of the house will be pleased with the sanitary comforts recently provided. No dust, no creaking of dust-laden boards and no shuffling of chairs is noticeable since the opera chairs and carpeted floors became a feature of the house.

WIGWAM THEATER.

"The Heiress," she has many suitors. Do they love her or her money? She pretends to be a poor girl, and all desert her; she finds one that loves her truly for herself alone. Song, by Miss Ethel Hall, "In All My Dreams, I Dream of You," "Lyons, the Second City of France," scenic; "Flaming Arrow," a great western drama among the Indians in the early days. This picture is full of intense and exciting events. "The Wonder of the Poppo," this picture is a wonderful production and a dramatic triumph. Illustrated song, Miss Ethel Hall, "Who Were You With Tonight?" "The Prince and Pumps," a bright, dazzling comedy, wherein a young fellow steals a young lady's pump and has a hard time to find the owner; a picture love tale.

Finances and Markets

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Under the lead of standard railroad issues stocks advanced again today. The movement was preceded by period of hesitation in the early trading when a majority of the active stocks sagged below Saturday's close. Active buying then lifted the market and during the remainder of the session prices held firm though heavy realization of this kept the market in check. Stocks were supplied plentifully on the advance, but selling ceased when the market showed signs of weakening. It is assumed that large holders were taking advantage of the rise to reduce their holdings. The short interest is reported to have met with serious reverses. Large stop loss orders, especially in United States Steel, have been uncovered on an advance and attack on the bears, which was carried on with success today. Northwestern railroads were conspicuous in point of strength. Trading in these roads increased owing to reports of a stipulation of business due to crop movement. Among eastern roads, Reading, Lehigh, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio, stood out prominently with a gain of a point or more. The latter crossed par the first time in several days. Special ties were in the background today, though General Electric, Harvester and Biscuit made good gains. United States Steel rose above sixty, the highest since the filing of the government's dissolution suit. Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $4,091,000. Government bonds unchanged on call.

NUT SEASON RECIPES.

Nesselrode Pudding—Shell and peel about twenty Italian chestnuts. If the home grown nuts are used double the quantity will be required. Boil the nuts until tender then press through a sieve. Make a rich custard, using a pint of rich milk or cream, the yolks of six eggs and sugar to make quite sweet. Stir over the fire, add the chestnut pulp and a quarter pound each seeded raisins and cleaned currants. Cook until thickened; take from the fire, cool, then add a pint of whipped and sweetened cream flavored to taste. Beat well together and freeze.

Hickory Nut Cake—Beat to a cream one-half cup of butter and two cups of sugar. Add the yolks of two eggs beaten light and stirred in with a cup of rich milk. Sift together in another bowl three cups of pastry flour, a rounding teaspoonful of cream of tartar and a half teaspoonful of soda. Mix with the other ingredients, beat well and then stir in two cups of chopped hickory or walnut meats and two cups of seeded raisins dredged with flour. Fold in the whites of two perfectly fresh eggs beaten to a stiff froth, and bake in a moderate oven about an hour. This cake may be flavored with a grating of nutmeg, a bit of mace or vanilla, as preferred.

Nut Balls—Cut stale cake in inch squares, then cover entirely with a frosting made as follows: Mix icing sugar with soft butter and a couple of teaspoonfuls of boiling water. Have ready walnuts rolled rather coarsely and roll frosted cake balls in the nuts, until the frosting is almost hidden. The frosting may be flavored with vanilla or any flavor desired. These are quite as delicious as good cream candy and will keep for days.
